President's Message

Flowers are starting to bloom and spring is finally in the air! There's still time to make your reservations for the Annual Golf outing at Cog Hill Golf Club. Golf chairman Ron Mazmanian has worked very hard to ensure we have not only great day, but some great gifts and prizes as well. We have exclusive use of all 4 courses at Cog Hill, and over 300 member and guests are already scheduled to play. Following golf an informal BBQ buffet on the patio will offer a relaxing networking atmosphere.

There are still a few tables left for the 106th Annual Dinner. Along with myself, Annual Dinner chair George Baima and the dinner committee, we had a meeting for a sample tasting of the dinner presented by Hilton's Executive Chef.

Traffic Club Hosts an Executive Briefing on U. S.-Mexico Trade

By Richard Roche

Opportunity is the "Watchword" for doing business in Mexico. Members of the Traffic Club and the U.S. Mexico Chamber of Commerce joined together to listen to experts on doing business between the two countries. It started with David Hale and an economic overview suggesting that Mexico is the new China. Global manufacturing is moving from a single source (in China) to a tri region environment consisting of Southeast Asia, Europe and North America (including Mexico, Canada and the United States).

I promise, you will enjoy it. I'm also very excited to hear what our guest speaker Don Mann has to say. Mr. Mann, as you may know, was a member of Seal Team Six that helped to train the team that took down Osama Bin Laden. With the current events in Boston, and the ongoing investigation of Benghazi, Mr. Mann should certainly keep us on the edge of our seats.

If you've never heard the Emerald Society Pipe and Drum Band or, Wayne Messmer sing the Canadian National Anthem and the Star Spangled Banner, it's worth it just going to the dinner for that. If that doesn't raise the hair on the back of your neck and make your heart beat just a little quicker, then you most certainly have ice water in your veins.

Kudos to our Education Committee for the putting together our joint Traffic Club-U.S.-Mexico Chamber of Commerce, Executive Briefing and Luncheon on U.S.-Mexico Trade. I spoke with several people after the event and everyone was very complimentary about Harper College's facilities, the quality of the speakers, and overall discussion. Everyone walked away with a little more knowledge of doing business in Mexico, whether it was about the tax laws, customs, transportation or logistics.

There was even a segment about starting up your own business in Mexico which was very interesting. I also witnessed several business opportunities being discussed during and after the event. Tom Degnan, our Membership Chairman, along with committee member Tim Humbert were also on hand, distributing our membership brochures and annual dinner invitations. This event was a great opportunity to increase the club's membership, and I applaud their efforts on behalf of the Club.

In closing, I would like to reiterate the importance of everyone coming out to support your Club's Annual Dinner and golf outing. If you've not already secured your ticket, please call the club office and help support this prestigious and much anticipated annual event. I look forward to seeing each and every one of you there.

Thank you for your support,
Eddie Beard

April 25th Power Point Presentation is Available

For those who attended and those who couldn't attend our joint TCC-U.S. Mexico Chamber of Commerce program at Harper College, the power point presentation during the lunch by Jose Zozaya will be available for those who wish to receive it. Mr. Zozaya, President of the Kansas City Southern de Mexico made an informative presentation on what the KCS is doing in Mexico, the challenges it and the successes that they have seen. The Education Committee would like to sincerely thank Mr. Zozaya and all the moderators and panel members who helped to make this timely and informative program a success.

...Executive Briefing

That concept was reinforced by two panels of industry insiders. The Climate for U.S. Mexico Trade was encouraged by Moderator Peter Moirano from Citi Bank and his panelists Kevin Clark, International Banking Executive from Banamex, Oscar de la Vega, Labor and Legal Practice Leader at Littler, Edgar Lopezlena, Mexican Tax Practice Leader at McGladery, Miguel Noyola, International Practice Leader at Baker McKenzie and Garrick Taylor, the Director of Public Policy at the Border Trade Alliance. Each panelist talked about changes taking place in Mexico; changes affecting Mexico's new administration, trade policy issues, labor reform, the legal framework for doing business in Mexico, finance and cross border issues. All pointed to the development of a growing regional manufacturing base and thus an increase in transportation, logistics and supply chain opportunities to and from Mexico.

James Cooke Editor of Supply Chain Quarterly (the CSCMP publication) moderated the panel on Manufacturing and Logistics. Jim Commiskey V.P. Automotive and Mexico at Pacer International, John Marchese Senior Director of Business Development at DHL Express and Miguel Perez, Director International Customer Logistics at Ryder Supply Chain Solutions talked about Logistics and Supply Chain Opportunities from the perspective of the provider. Without question logistics and transportation are the key to integrating successful manufacturing operations and connecting them to the U. S. and Mexico marketplace.

Haydn Powell, Global Supply Chain Manager at Caterpillar and Justin Norman Senior Director Business Development at J.D. Norman Industries spoke to the value of setting up manufacturing operations in Mexico and how that strategy is of significant benefit to the success of their corporations. Specifically they noted the value of shelter companies and how having a third party resource that supported the transition to multi-national manufacturing aided in the success of the venture. In short, manufacturing outsourcing and third party back room operations with their vast knowledge and experience are an important factor in the formula for creating successful ventures in International Markets.

The closing speaker was Jose Zozaya, President of the Kansas City Southern de Mexico. He talked about going "Beyond the Border" and how manufacturers in all of the North American markets need the values that International Transportation supplies both for manufacturing locations and for destination and consumption markets. There is much to be gained for everyone involved in Transportation, Logistics and the Supply Chain as organizations in both countries learn to do business across the border. Moving forward, companies who do not do business across the border are likely to be "left behind."

Mr. Roche is President of Roche Industries, a member of the Traffic Club of Chicago and Vice President of Programs for the U.S. Mexico Chamber of Commerce.

Panels Offer Timely Discussion
