

How can we help each other to establish a sustainable supply chain and then generate an ongoing value among manufacturers, suppliers, third parties and government policy makers to benefit all the players, including the customers of international businesses on all sides of the border? Can collaboration bring value to the North American Alliance, which contains the largest trading network in the world? How do we produce “win, win, win” and how can we make it even more beneficial to this International Network through a collaborative process?

Moderator: Denny Grim, President of Sound Business Network

- Larry Bajmakovich, Sales Manager of BDG International
- John Marchese, International Director of DHL
- Bob Moran, President of First Logistics
- Scott Grady, President of Rush Trucking
- Mathew Elenjickal, CEO of Four Kites
- Michael Wohlwend, Managing Principal at Alpine Supply Chain Solutions
- Matt Silver, CEO of Forager